Historical Note:

Church Women United is a Christian ecumenical movement bringing together Protestant, Roman Catholic, and Orthodox women with a mission to “celebrate unity in diversity” and promote justice and world peace. The Champaign-Urbana unit traces its roots to the Interdenominational Council of Missionary Societies, founded in 1921 and later named Champaign-Urbana Missionary Union. The group was formed by eleven women representing eleven different churches and five different denominations in an effort to cooperatively serve the needs of the community. In 1926, the Union joined the Council of Women for Home Missions and the Federation of Women’s Board for Foreign Missions. In 1941, Church Women United - then named United Council of Church Women (UCCW) - was formed at the national level. In the early 1970’s Catholic women joined Church Women United of Champaign-Urbana and in the mid-1970’s the local movement began partnering with the Sinai Temple Sisterhood on various projects. As of 2011, the national movement represents twenty-six supporting denominations.

Church Women United celebrates three annual celebrations: Human Rights Day, May Friendship Day, and World Community Day. The movement is also very involved in the World Day of Prayer celebrations. Along with these worship experiences, every four years CWU adopts a “quadrennial priority”. This priority allows CWU to focus on one specific area of need for their advocacy and action. CWU is heavily involved in advocating for human rights internationally and works on the behalf of women and children by signing on to proposals sent to Congress and the United Nations. CWU also encourages local units to honor their members by annually honoring a Valiant Woman, a Key Woman, and a Young Church Woman United.

The Church Women United of Champaign-Urbana has worked on projects addressing a wide range of communities and issues. They have been very active serving Meals on Wheels, sponsoring the UNICEF Trick or Treat collection, and started the local Reading is Fundamental program. The local unit also was very active in raising funds for the building of a chapel at Dwight Correctional Facility. They have also been very active in letter writing campaigns to senators, representatives, and school boards promoting the needs of the communities that they strive to serve.

Scope and Content:

The collection contains records from 1963-2008, with the bulk of records representing the 1990s and early 2000s. The collection consists of records created primarily by the local unit, but also contains information from and about the national movement. The records are particularly strong in information about annual events and celebrations, especially May Friendship Day, World Community Day, and World Day of Prayer. There are also publications from the national and state units of CWU. The collection also includes information relating to the wide range of issues that CWU endeavors to address and administrative materials created by the local unit.

Arrangement:

This collection is divided into five series: administrative, events, publications and newsletters, subject file, and photographs and objects.

Series 1: Administrative:

This series contains meeting minutes and agendas, handbooks, unit yearbooks, annual reports, state and local by-laws, financial reports, and correspondence. There are also member and church lists, information about CWU, committee information, procedures, forms, and catalogs.

Series 2: Events:

This series includes the records related to annual and special events held by local, regional, and national units of CWU. Included in this series are event promotional materials, correspondence related to the particular event, and meeting minutes.

Series 3: Publications and Newsletters:

This series consists of incomplete runs of publications and newsletters created by the national and state CWU, mostly from the 1990s and early 2000s. Titles included are the Churchwoman Magazine, ChurchWoman News, Illinois Interpreter, Inform and Act, Wellspring IX, and Lead Time.

Series 4: Subject File:

The subject file exists to organize the materials relating to CWU's partnerships, awards, and issues in which CWU is concerned. Partnerships represented are the Fellowship of the Least Coin and Church World Service. There is also information about local organizations and human rights issues, as well as music, prayers, and Bible passages.
